

NEW SOUTH WALES POLICE FORCE SEARCH WARRANT

To, (Name / Rank of Applicant) Commissioner - Nick Davis
or all Police Officers of the NSW Police Force

I, (Name and Position) Chief Justice - Daniel Larvo

an eligible issuing officer, after hearing a sworn application for a search warrant on (Day) 28 (Month) October (Year) 2023

am satisfied there are reasonable grounds for doing so. I, therefore, issue a warrant to search the below-listed place(s) for the below-listed thing(s):

(Details of places to be searched)

A premises belonging to the '14K Triads', located at San Andreas Avenue x Decker Street in the Little Seoul area.

The NSW Police have authority in this order to conduct a search of the entire premises which is reasonably believed to be belonging to the organisations '14K Triads'

(Details of things to be searched for)

The NSW Police has presented evidence that demonstrates a continued pattern of criminal behaviour with the usage of firearms. Thereby, this order gives permission to the NSW Police to search for items considered firearms. Police may use any and all powers afforded within the Law Enforcement (Powers & Responsibilities) Act 2002 to conduct the search & seizure of assets.

A police officer may lawfully exercise the following powers under this search warrant:

- Seize and detain a thing (or thing of a kind) mentioned in the warrant
- Seize and detain any other thing that the person finds in the course of executing the warrant and that the person has reasonable grounds to believe is connected with any offence
- Search any person found in or on the premises whom the person executing the warrant reasonably suspects of having anything mentioned in the warrant

If the search warrant is a covert search warrant, the executing officer is also authorised:

- Enter and search the premises without the knowledge of any occupier of the subject premises, and
- if necessary to do so to enter and search the subject premises--to enter premises adjoining or providing access to the subject premises ("adjacent premises") without the knowledge of the occupier of the adjacent premises, and
- to impersonate another person for the purposes of executing the warrant, and
- to do anything else that is reasonable for the purpose of concealing anything done in the execution of the warrant from the occupier of the premises.

Obstruction or hindrance of person executing warrant:

- A person must not, without reasonable excuse, obstruct or hinder a person executing a search warrant

Signed: Daniel Larvo
